The lighter of the taxi driver flickered alone and abandoned in the deep darkness of the night. Thick clouds blocking the light of the full moon, and fog flew through the narrow streets of the small town. In a distance, you could hear a pack of wolves howling, and it was already a very scary scenery, if you like sitting alone in the dark and waiting for an opportunity to satisfy your cravings at night. Mila, a snow-white Persian cat from a good family, who shimmered blue in the moonlight, but you could not easily prepare her a fright, because she knew all the tricks. She loved to sneak around the legs of the taxi driver, always in the hope that he would give her a bite of his sandwich his late night snack . . . Marlon Bakers award winning (The BOOX AWARD for the best short story of the year) short story continues into a magical fairytale you and your kids will love to read!
